Of course, everything depends on the weather and this can change in the mountains with very little warning despite what the forecast might be. However, the Swiss Met people seem to get it right most times and Axalp has only been completely cancelled, i.e., every day, on very few occasions; it is definitely worth the taking the risk. In 2009 and 2010 the weather forecast was good, allowing at least 1 practice day and a firepower demo day.

There are 3 public viewing areas located at or near to the top of the mountain. The summit is reachable part-way by a chairlift, but mostly on foot up narrow, winding paths. However, in 2009 a couple of enthusiasts from our group took a longer, but easier, path partly on tarmac road. For details of the other recommended ways up, please see details on page 4, and the excellent website: <http://www.utopia-photography.ch/action/b/info.html>

We fly on the scheduled services of British Airways to/from Zurich; travel around Switzerland by train, de-luxe coach or mini-coach, and stay 4-nights at the Hotel Rebstock in Meiringen, and 1-night at the Ibis-Zurich Airport Hotel, on a bed and continental breakfast basis.

PROVISIONAL ITINERARY (all times local)

DAY 1: MONDAY, 10th OCTOBER

Between 10:30 and 11:35 please check-in with British Airways in Terminal 5 at London's Heathrow Airport. Then meet your Ian Allan Tour Manager and fellow enthusiasts who will be standing by Column G which is located in the Departures Hall immediately before the check-in area. We recommend you check in no later than 11:35.

✈ Heathrow Airport, Terminal 5
✈ Zurich

Flight: BA 716

Departs: 13:35
Arrives: 16:20

From Zurich Airport we use the excellent services of Swiss Rail whose trains depart every 10 minutes to Zurich Central Station; from there we continue on to Meiringen (on the hourly service), with the whole journey taking 2½ hours. We stay 4-nights on a bed and continental breakfast basis at the Hotel Rebstock, located in the centre of the small town, a 300 yards walk from the railway station. The hotel has a restaurant and bar on-site, and several others in the immediate area. Website: www.hotel-rebstock.ch

Meiringen is famous for 2 reasons: they invented meringues here, and it's the place where the dastardly Moriarty killed Sherlock Holmes at the nearby Reichenbach Falls (which you can visit by cable car); there is a museum in the town and several of the streets have names connected with the Arthur Conan Doyle. For your evening's relaxation, there are several restaurants and bars within a very short walking distance.

DAY 2: TUESDAY, 11th OCTOBER

Meeting our local driver at 08:30 we board our coach for the short drive down the valley to Meiringen airbase. Today is the designated training day for "AXALP 2011". Like 2009 and 2010, we will spend the day at the base which is used to support the firepower demonstration; Hornets, helicopters and transport aircraft fly in and out of the base from morning till dusk. We return to our hotel at 18:00 hrs.

With no fences to contend with, there are various spots along the side of the runway, at its mid-point, and at both ends, which are perfect for photography and spotting. A public road, complete with traffic lights(!) crosses the runway's mid-point (pictured right) and is used by vehicles and pedestrians alike!

There is also a taxi-way leading into/out of the nearby mountain where the Hornets 'live'!

In the civil air terminal there is the excellent "Fliegertreff" restaurant which serves hot and cold meals to both military personnel and civilians throughout the day. Above the restaurant is a viewing terrace overlooking the ramp, taxiway and runway – another popular place to watch the action and take photographs.

Or, you have the option of going to Axalp and up to the range (own arrangements and expense).

DAY'S 3 & 4: WEDNESDAY, 12th & THURSDAY, 13th OCTOBER

After an early continental breakfast at 04:00 hrs., we depart the hotel at 04:30 for nearby Brienz Brunnen, where, from 05:00, a coach shuttle service will take enthusiasts up to Axalp village. First introduced for AXALP 2010 last October, access by vehicles is no longer possible up to Axalp village, and everyone must now use the official shuttle coach service: the daily price in 2010 was CHF40.00 (which also includes return rides on the chairlift, whether you use the lift or not). This charge is only payable on the day and is not included in the tour price. The 2011 price not yet available.

On arrival in Axalp village you have the option of joining the queue for the Windegg chairlift (coffee is available from the adjacent hotel). The majority of people take the chairlift as it saves a 1-hour walk; however, you then have a difficult trek across badly broken ground: see page 4. There is an easier, but longer, route walking on the asphalt road which goes around the back of the mountain whilst gently climbing to join a steep path up to the first viewing area and continuing to the second and third viewing areas.

There is flying practice both mornings (no firing), in preparation for the actual firepower demo from 14:00.

You have the option of going up on one or both days. We recommend that you bring with you 2 walking poles as they will be very helpful going up, and coming back down, the mountain; also, take a backpack/haversack in place of a camera bag.

At 16:30 the demo ends and its time to make the descent back down the mountain to Axalp village; from here we take the shuttle service back to Brienz railway station where our drivers will be waiting (we use 2 or more mini-vans).

DAY 5: FRIDAY, 14th OCTOBER

At 08:00 we depart the Swiss Air Force base at Payerne and spend the day on the perimeter, home to its F-18C/Ds. Again, with no fences to contend with there are perfect viewing/photography spots alongside the runway, and outside the recently opened Swiss Air Force Museum: admission to the museum is not included in the tour price so as to give you the option of remaining outside to capture the action.

Lunch (at your own expense) can be taken at the very popular restaurant along from the museum, overlooking the taxiway and runway.

A 2-hours drive down the motorway is Zurich, where we stay the night at the Ibis-Zurich Airport Hotel on a bed and continental breakfast basis.

DAY 6: SATURDAY, 15th OCTOBER

Today you have a choice: Enjoy some time in the centre of Zurich, only 5 miles away (own transfer arrangements).

Spend the day spotting/photographing at Zurich's busy international airport, 3 miles away, transferring at a time of your own choosing using the hotel's courtesy transfer service. There are tours of the airport ramps, including spending some time alongside the runway. Places can only be booked on the day.

Or accompany the Tour Manager on a visit to the Swiss Air Force Museum in Dubendorf. At 09:00 we depart the hotel by pre-paid taxis for the museum, located a few miles from our hotel. After the visit we arrive at Zurich Airport around 13:00 where we check in for our flight. We then have to time for a quick visit to the viewing terrace and/or lunch (both at your own expense).

Latest check-in time for our flight back to London is 14:00

✈ Zurich
✈ Heathrow Airport, Terminal 5

INFORMATION ON AXALP & THE SWISS AIR FORCE FIREPOWER DEMONSTRATIONS

The official viewing sites for everyone attending the firepower demonstrations and practice days are situated near to the top of the mountain. For obvious safety reasons these are the only places you can see the action!

If one is in a normal physical condition it should not be a problem for you to walk up the mountain. For people with circulation or heart problems it is advisable to consult your doctor before booking on this tour.

As the show takes place in October it will already be quite cool so bring appropriate (warm, winter) clothing with you. The weather can change very quickly in the mountains, therefore it is recommended that you also include fresh clothes in a backpack. When you arrive at the viewing areas it is advisable to change out of any sweated clothing, for example, your shirt, it can be cold and windy at the viewing areas, although when the sun comes out later in the day it gets warmer. That said, in 2009 and 2010 the weather was very co-operative with blue skies, sunshine and temperatures high enough to remove outer layers of clothing down to shirt sleeves!

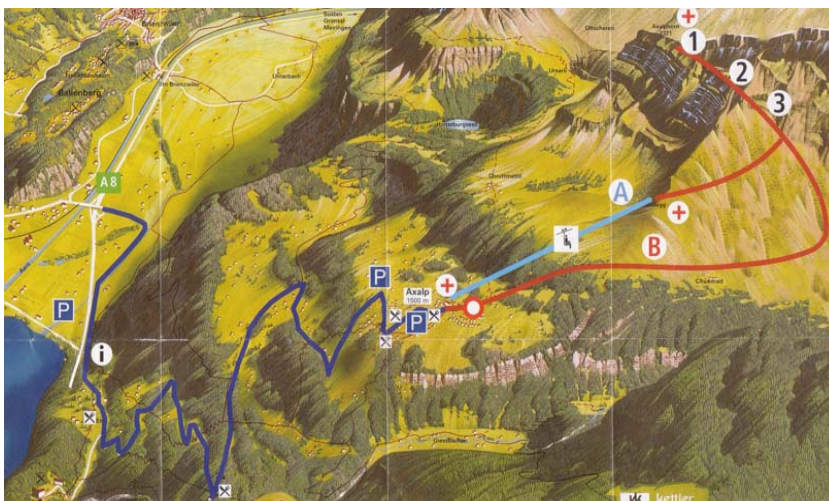

Apropos weather - this is beyond Ian Allan's control. On the mountain the sun is shining but you don't see anything flying because the aircraft/helicopters can't take off if there is fog down at the departure airbase. It can also be the other way round: good conditions on the airbase but the range is in the clouds or fog – so again no flying can take place. The local weather forecasts are posted at various places, as well as being announced on the radio and television. The worst scenario: the weather is unco-operative and both firepower demonstrations are cancelled. Although a rare occurrence, you need to bear this in mind when booking.

Useful items to take up the mountain with you: hiking (or a good pair of walking) boots, extra clothes, flask of tea/coffee/soup, snacks/sandwiches (café only open on Wednesday and Thursday). Also, a torch – preferably one that you can affix to your headgear, rather than hand-held - as it will be dark in the early morning when we set off, first using the chairlift and then the path.

It is possible to go up to the viewing areas on the Tuesday training day (the lift does not normally operate on this day), when you might also see training flights for the official demonstration, for example, Puma and Hornet displays, Patrouille Suisse etc.!

Firing practice normally starts around 09:00, and it is essential to depart Axalp village around 06:00 to give you time for as easy an ascent as possible; and also because the authorities close the pathway from Axalp just before the actual practice starts! Firing usually takes place between 09:00-11:30 and 14:00-16:30.

The official Axalp firepower demonstrations take place on the Wednesday and Thursday, starting at 14:00 each day and lasts for around 1½ - 2 hrs. In the morning practice flights and/or normal shooting takes place.

On training days you need to take food and drink with you, but on the Wednesday and Thursday drinks and snacks are sold in the three spectator areas.

The map shows the way from the direction of Meiringen to Axalp village (dark (blue) line), however, access to the village is now only possible by shuttle coach from the nearby town of Brienz.

Viewing areas are marked 1, 2 and 3. The light (blue) line is the chairlift. Red lines are the two walking routes.

UK passport holders do not require a visa to enter Switzerland.

Foreign & Commonwealth Office (FCO) Consular Advice

The FCO's consular service is a major operation. Every hour of every day consular staff around the world are advising and helping British nationals. For up-to-date passport, visa and security information on the destination you intend visiting, we suggest you visit: www.fco.gov.uk/knowbeforeyougo

Baggage Regulations – British Airways

Hold baggage – BA's baggage rules, for Economy Class, currently allow 1 piece in the aircraft's hold, up to a maximum weight of 23kgs (51lbs). Where it is clear that a passenger cannot manage one bag of 23kgs, they will be able to check-in an additional bag free of charge, as long as the sum weight of both bags when totalled does not exceed 23kgs. Any amount in excess of 23kgs and excess baggage charges are likely to be applied.

Hand baggage - Passengers departing from or transferring through Heathrow can take 2 standard-sized bags no bigger than 56cm x 45cm x 25cm (22" x 17.5" x 9.85") including wheels, pockets and handles. There is no weight limit for cabin bags, provided passengers can lift the bags, unaided, into the overhead lockers in the aircraft cabin.

Restrictions remain in place for the carriage of liquids, gels, and creams in hand baggage for all passengers departing from and transferring through all EU airports. Some other airports around the world operate their own restrictions. Customers are advised to check before they travel.

Limited quantities of liquids (individual containers must not exceed 100ml or 3.5 fl oz), are allowed as hand baggage but must be carried separately through security in a clear plastic, zip-top or re-sealable bag that does not exceed 20cm x 20cm (8 inches x 8 inches), or quart size. Items must fit in the bag comfortably and the bag must be completely closed.

The bag can only contain liquids such as shampoo, suntan lotions, creams, toothpaste, hair gel and hair spray, perfumes, cosmetics such as mascara and lip gloss, water and other drinks, soups and syrups and other items of a similar consistency.

Cigarette lighters are NOT permitted in hold baggage or through the security search. These may be purchased airside.

Hand baggage can also include electronic equipment such as mobile phones, digital cameras and MP3 players (such as i-Pods). Laptops must be removed from the bag for x-ray.

Prescription medicines in liquid form, e.g. diabetic kit can also be included.

At security all remaining items should be placed in the tray provided for screening, e.g. car keys and fobs, cash, solid food, books, newspapers, cigarettes and tobacco, belts and shoes. Pushchairs and walking aids are permitted but must be x-ray screened. All wheelchairs will be subject to search. Please note: you may be subject to a hand search by the security team and required to remove footwear to be x-ray screened.

If flying from any other airport on BA, i.e. on connecting services to/from Heathrow, the allowance differs depending on the airport and you are advised to check beforehand.

Baggage Weight Restrictions – UK Airports

Since 1st June 2004, any single piece of checked baggage weighing more than 70lbs (32kgs) has not been accepted at check-in by any airline operating from London's Heathrow Airport. The BAA may introduce this limit at their other airports in the UK (and so might non-BAA airports), in an attempt to reduce manual handling injuries amongst airport staff. Please bear this in mind when packing your suitcase.

Meals

On this tour continental breakfast each day at the hotel is included in the tour price.

Health Requirements

There are no known mandatory or recommended precautions for visiting Switzerland; however, if you are in doubt we strongly recommend you consult your local doctor or health centre for the latest information.

Climate and Dress

The weather in October is likely to be on the "cool side" but sunny (around 10°C, but colder up the mountain), so we recommend warm, winter clothing which is also waterproof. In place of a camera bag, which goes over your shoulder, we strongly recommend a backpack or haversack; also hiking, or strong walking boots, a vacuum flask, a torch and 2 walking poles.

Currency

Please note that the currency of Switzerland is the Swiss Franc (CHF), not the Euro (€).

Travel Insurance

For citizens of the United Kingdom, Ian Allan Travel Ltd are able to offer competitive and comprehensive insurance cover. However, if you do not wish to take out our insurance, you must ensure that comparable or greater cover is taken. These policies also include cover for non-scheduled flights, i.e. pleasure flights, where the aircraft is licensed and insured to undertake such flights, and where a payment is made.

Wheelchair Assistance at Airports.

This tour is not suitable for anyone using a wheelchair, or anyone who cannot walk up a mountainside unaided (but possible with aid of 2 walking poles).

Flexible Itinerary

We are very happy for enthusiasts to take time away from the printed itinerary to pursue their own interests during multi-day stays in the same place, so long as they inform the Tour Manager. It will be the individual's responsibility to ensure that they re-join the group in the hotel at the stated time on the day of departure.

Land Only Price

For enthusiasts who would prefer to join the tour in Switzerland (instead of flying from the UK with the main group), we will be very pleased to provide a 'Land Only' price on request.

You are strongly advised to contact us before making your own flight arrangements in the event that there has been a change to the published itinerary.

Please note that the 'Land only' price is based on you meeting the tour at the hotel in Meiringen and no airport transfers are included. However, should your flight arrival and departure times at Zurich Airport coincide with those of the main group from London, a seat will be offered if available for an appropriate supplement.

Flight Timings & Connecting Travel Arrangements to Departure Airport

All flight departure and arrival times are correct at the time of preparing each itinerary; however, airlines may change these times with little or no prior warning. In practice such changes are only a few minutes either way and the final itinerary will show the actual times. Clients making their own arrangements to get to the departure airport by air, rail, coach etc., should bear the above in mind if purchasing non-refundable or non-changeable tickets. Ian Allan Travel cannot be held responsible for any changes to flight times and any privately arranged travel tickets to the airport becoming invalid.
